• Battle of Haifa

- On September 6, 2018 the northern Israeli coastal city of Haifa celebrated the centenary year of its liberation from Ottoman rule during World War I.
- The celebration honoured the brave Indian soldiers who laid down their lives in what is considered "the last great cavalry campaign in history".
- The historic battle was fought entirely by Indian troops -- the Jodhpur Lancers and the Mysore Lancers and Hyderabad Lancers -- towards the end of World War I to capture the strategic city of Haifa in Israel from the Ottomans. The Indian cavalry brigades were fighting under the leadership of British General Edmund Allenby.
- The event also holds significance as the Indian soldiers were armed only with lances (a kind of spear) and swords while the Turks had in their possession advanced artillery and machine guns.
- Another important objective of this battle was to ensure the safety of Abdul-Baha, the son of the founder of the Bahai faith (Baha'u'llah) who was a resident of Haifa at that time and whose life had been threatened by the Turkish Commander-in-Chief.
- The Indian Army commemorates September 23 every year as Haifa Day to pay its respects to the three Indian Cavalry Regiments which were part of the 15th Imperial Service Cavalry Brigade of the then British Indian Army at the Battle of Haifa in 1918.
